FROM OUR MODERATOR

It has been exactly one year since Pastor Dale Vallejo-Sanderson stepped down as our pastor and said his aloha to Kailua Christian Church. Our current Pastoral Search Committee (PSC) was formed shortly thereafter and got to work quickly revising the KCC local church profile and started the process of reaching out and interviewing candidates.

Now the PSC has some very good news to announce. The PSC has unanimously recommended to our Council a candidate for our Settled Pastor position. Our Council accepted that recommendation and made an offer to the candidate, pending membership approval, and our candidate has accepted our offer.

We will be sending all of you, both members and friends, ministerial profile information about our candidate for you to read and links to online sermons for you to see and hear.

We are moving forward rapidly with the following schedule.

On May 7th we will formally announce the date of the KCC congregational meeting to vote on our candidate becoming our settled pastor. That meeting will take place on Sunday, May 21, 2023, following the worship service in the sanctuary.

On May 14th at 8:30 a.m. we will have a coffee hour to meet & greet our candidate followed by worship where she will deliver our sermon for that Sunday. We contemplate that the meet and greet coffee hour will include some Zoom time online prior to the service for those of you online to be able to meet and greet our candidate. There will be no time to meet and greet after the service because she needs to catch a plane immediately following worship.

Between May 14th and May 17th KCC will be open to receiving any questions you may have which will be summarized and forwarded for responses by our candidate. Please submit your questions in writing, preferably by email to: kailuacch@gmail.com. We have requested that the questions be responded to on or before May 19th.

On May 21st, we contemplate conducting a formal congregational meeting at which time we will present the Qs & As, and we will have a discussion and conduct a vote on our proposed settled pastor. We also plan to receive the KCC Annual Report at this congregational meeting.

Please thank the PSC for their hard work and dedication to this long and sometimes tedious process. Your PSC includes: Reggie Yamada, Katelyn Akamine, Dean Wakuzawa, Susan Morita, Dennis Fong, Vernon Pang, Alan Yoneshige and Gail Yoneshige. The KCC moderator also participates in the PSC as an ex-officio member.

DEACONS CORNERWhen Your Church is Without a Pastor

By Dale A. Robbins

This article (VL-170) is copyrighted © by Dr. Dale A. Robbins, 1990-2023 and is a publication of Victorious Publications, Grass Valley, CA - Nashville, TN

It happens in every church sooner or later. Eventually, the beloved pastor that many looked to for spiritual guidance will depart for one reason or another. Occasionally, a minister may have the opportunity to devote his entire life to one particular congregation until he retires (or is promoted to Heaven), but pastoral transition occurs with far greater frequency in most churches.

First, when it comes time for your pastor to leave, remember to keep your eyes on the Lord, not the man. It is understandable how people can become attached to their pastor. He is rightly viewed as God's representative to preach and teach His Word, a trusted counselor and friend, a father figure of influence in our faith, a servant who sacrificed time and energy to love and care for us and our family. However, as remarkably important as God's servants are, we must always remember that they are merely mortals...and that our faith must be rooted in Christ alone, not in a man or any of His servants.

To be sure, no one will ever truly be able to replace your departed pastor. He was a unique person and will always be one of a kind... BUT his position as pastor can indeed be filled again. God will have another genuinely unique servant that He will send to lead the flock of God.

Pastoral change is not the end of the world. Change is a part of life, and although there will definitely be a need for some extra patience and flexibility by everyone in the congregation, you and your church will get through this... especially if you follow these tips:

1. Be Faithful to Attend Services – The lack of a permanent pastor can make some feel less enthused or connected with the church, and may promote more frequent absences or visitations to other churches. However, if there was ever a time your church needed you, this is it. Instead of finding more excuses to stay away, this should be a time to increase your faithfulness in every area. Don't be a fair-weather friend of the church... but remain faithful even during such cloudy or uncertain times.

2. Be a Person of Prayer – People in the church must always be persons sincerely devoted to prayer...but even more so during a time that their church is without a pastor. If he can, our enemy, Satan, will attempt to use the pastoral vacancy to incite mischief, conflict and discouragement in the flock, so prayer and spiritual vigilance is especially important during this time.

3. Be Extra Patient and Understanding – An interim period for any church may become tense and stressful, creating the possible atmosphere for any number of misunderstandings, so it is very helpful for everyone to add an extra seasoning of patience and sweetness to their attitudes. Usually, once the pastor is gone, the congregation will discover many of the things he did. Suddenly, the organization may not be run as smoothly as it once was... tasks may fall through the cracks or be forgotten about. It is not a time to criticize or find fault, but be understanding and pitch in and help make up the shortfalls.

4. Continue to Contribute Financially – During a time of leadership transition, church finances can often become one of the first casualties to suffer... so it is vitally important for you to remain steadfast with your tithes and offerings. Remember, the tithe belongs to the Lord, and continue to be faithful to Him, regardless of the changing nature of his church.

5. Volunteer More than Usual – Sometimes people look at changes in church leadership, as an opportunity to make changes of their own... perhaps to leave the church or to give up a position or responsibility. Not only is this a poor time to abandon the church, but is a critical time to step up and volunteer more than normal.

The church is not merely an agency to provide a service or benefit to you... the church is a relationship-based community, a family, where people serve and bless "each other" mutually... and it takes everyone's participation to make it work the way it should. Another way to look at it, the church isn't as much like a restaurant, where patrons are "served" and "pampered" ...but is more like a pot-luck dinner where everyone brings a dish to share with each other.

6. Help Contribute to Unity – During times uncertainty within an organization, voices of discouragement and discontent can often be heard in the ranks... but this is a moment your influence of support and encouragement is so needed to help promote peace and unity in the body. "Talk up" the church among your friends, speak encouragement and help promote harmony.

There can be a variety of other outstanding leaders, elders, deacons in a church who will undoubtedly help bring unity and stability... but unless these persons have established recognized credibility, have spoken frequently before the body, or have expertise dealing with the varieties of personalities and sensitivities within a body, they will have their hands full. It can take considerable experience and tact to be a peacemaker and unify people... and helps if everyone will be a part of the solution, and not a part of the problem.

7. Avoid Church Politics – Politics is essentially a competition or struggle for control, influence or leadership, associated with promoting one's self, opinions, or striving for position... something that is quite contrary to the theocratic philosophy of leadership that God ordained for His church. Unfortunately, power struggles are frequent in many churches and do far more harm than good. Do your best to contribute to the harmony of the body of believers and cooperate with those who are duly authorized to lead. Do not contend with those in authority, but support and pray for them... and let God make whatever changes that are needed. If everyone will seek to humble themselves, love and serve, God has an amazing way to bring people together with an obvious awareness of those whom He has chosen to lead.

8. Don't Waste the Opportunity – What about the interim time between the pastor's departure and the new pastor's arrival? There is often a prevailing attitude that the spiritual focus and ministry of the church is suspended or stagnant during this period... but this shouldn't be. God still has a vital purpose for every service, guest speaker or the ministry of an interim pastor... and it is important for the congregation to remain faithful and engaged, so that God's intended work can be accomplished.

9. Finally, Don't Panic and Be at Peace! Do your part to pray, contribute and help as we have suggested... but the church will do better if everyone remains calm and steadfast in faith. Ultimately our Lord Jesus cares more about His church more than any of us do. Trust and rest in the fact that He stated that "He" will build His church... and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it! (Matt 16:18)

Message from Institute for Human Services

Overwhelmed with Gratitude

Whether it's walking through the hallways of their women's and family shelter, serving meals at their men's shelter, or seeing families laugh and play together at Kahauiki Village, Connie shared that she is humbled by the hearts of those who choose to partner alongside them as volunteers.

With the addition of 'Imi Ola Piha Homeless Triage Center, IHS now manages 14 service centers, which include nine shelters and eight core service lines. That's over a thousand connections with households in crisis - those who are about to lose housing, are currently homeless, or are now living in supportive housing. Because of you, and other faithful volunteers, these programs run smoothly and are a lifeline for those in need.

Our volunteers rally by participating in donation drives, job coaching, administrative support, landscape and maintenance projects, and much more! IHS is grateful to you for sharing your time, energy, and aloha with those they serve, many who need reminding that they are valued and seen.

With gratitude,

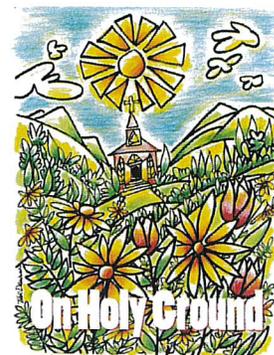

Connie Mitchell
